

Windows 10

Customise your Start Menu

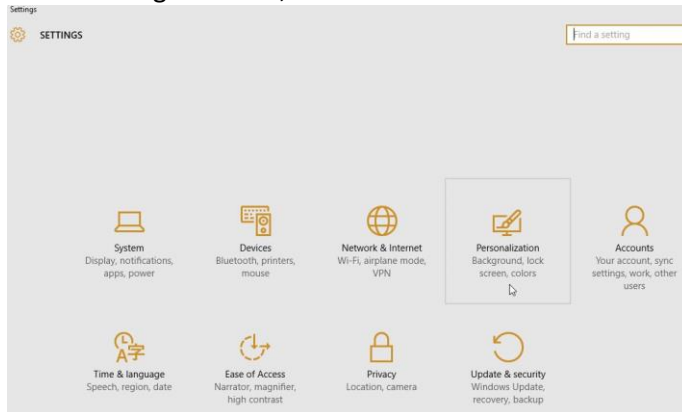

There are a number of ways of changing the look of the Start menu

Resizing

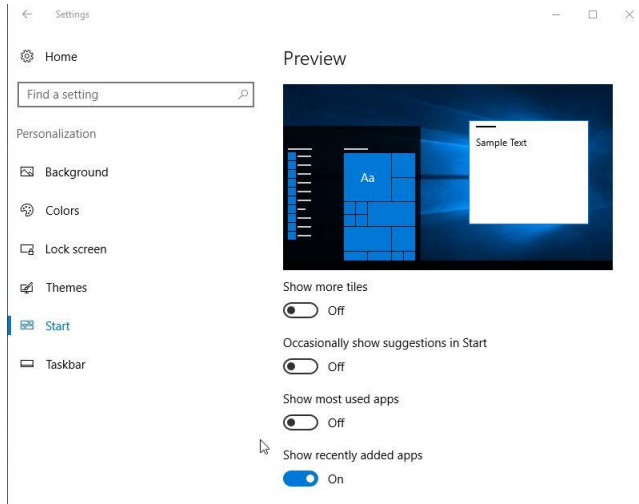

You can resize the Start menu like any other window – run the mouse down the side of the Start menu until the mouse pointer turns into a resizing arrow  the drag it to the required width. Do the same along the top to change the height.

For other Start menu changes, Click on Start > Settings

In the Settings window, click Personalisation

Then click Start

Use this to change your preferences, including making the Start menu full screen. You can also de-clutter your Start menu by turning off Show most used apps.

Note: You will see a setting called Tablet mode elsewhere. Do not use this mode on a PC to change the menu size because it also runs every windows full size.

The folders that appear at the bottom left of the Start menu can also be changed.

To change these folders, in the Start settings windows (at the bottom) click Choose which folders appear on Start (see image on previous page) then set your preferences

